

Questions for self-control

1. What are the goals and objectives for pharmacotherapy during pregnancy?
2. Specify the features of the woman's body during pregnancy and lactation.
3. List the factors affecting the permeability of the placental barrier.
4. Describe the types of adverse effects of drugs during gestation.
5. Describe the algorithm for the rational choice of drugs during pregnancy.
6. List the groups of drugs according to the degree of adverse effects on a pregnant woman's body.
7. Describe the age-related features of the child's body that affect the effectiveness and safety of drugs.
8. What are the most common problems of rational drug choice for a child?
9. Describe the modern children's dosage forms, especially their dosing and use.
10. What are the typical changes of pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics of drugs in the body of an elderly person?
11. Describe the complexities of older and older compliance.
12. Explain the features of pharmaceutical ethics and deontology when dealing with the elderly patients.